TORONTO CAME OUT ON LONG END OF SCORE

Fast Game Won by Odd Goal In Nine.

VERY CLEAN MATCH.

Varsity Now Will Play For Allan Cup.

In a game that will go down as one of the speediest and most closely contested in the history of Intercollegiate Hockey, Toronto University edged out McGill by a one-goal margin, in the play-off on Saturday night at Ottawa, thereby winning the championship.

The score, which was 5 to 4, was in doubt right until the final gong rung for the end of the game. Probably the Capitol City, has not witnessed as nerve-racking an exhibition of hockey in a long time.

A crowd that almost completely filled Dey's big Arena turned out to watch the game. Among these, wearers of the Red and White were especially prominent, it being estimated that upwards of eight hundred students had made the trip from Montreal.

Although both teams fought desperately from start to finish, the game was clean at all stages, and only a few penalties were handed out by Referee Harvey Pulford and J. Munro. Even in the closing minutes of the match, when Varsity went back on the defensive in order to hold out the terrific attacks of the McGill team, consistently clean hockey was displayed by both.

The winning team showed that they possess a fast forward line that back-checks persistently, and plays good combination. The defence also put up a strong game. Perhaps the man to whom the greatest credit is due for Varsity's victory is Langtry, the goal-keeper, who gave a brilliant exhibition of net-minding. Many times at crucial points of the game, when a goal for McGill would have tied the score and lent renewed vigor to the Red and White, Langtry proved a big stumbling block in the way.

For McGill, Heney and the two Andersons were consistently good. Behan put up a good brand of hockey during the earlier part of the game, but he soon tired, as he had only recently recovered from an attack of the "flu." Although Heney was under the disadvantage of playing with a pad protecting his jaw; he was one of the fastest men on the ice, and his end to end rushes were brilliant.

Toronto obtained a lead of two goals in the first period that forced McGill to play an uphill game all the way. The second period was McGill's, the latter scoring three goals to their opponents' two. The third period was fairly even, with the Red and White doing most of the attacking.

The game started at a terrific pace, with each team taking turns at rushing. Behan had the first shot, a difficult one that nearly got past Langtry. For several minutes McGill forced the play. Heney rushed and passed the defence, but Langtry saved. Varsity in turn nearly broke through, but Clark was equal to the occasion. All the McGill forwards were trying long shots at this stage, but the Varsity net-minder was always on the job. Play hovered around centre ice, till the U. of T. forward line got away to a combined rush that resulted in Carson scoring the first goal of the game. It was a wicked side shot. McGill came right back and forced the play, several times narrowly missing scoring. Behan broke through, but fell. Immediately afterwards, he rushed with

ANNOUNCEMENT OF A CONCERT BY ORCHESTRA

Sunday, 14th of March, is Date.

ADMISSION FREE.

To Be Given In Union Hall
At 3 p.m.

The McGill Students' Orchestra announce a concert to be given in the Union on Sunday next, the 14th, at 3.00 p.m.

Since the publication of the recent article in the "Daily," the attendance at the weekly practices has been large and regular; everybody has worked hard, and there is every reason to state that next Sunday's concert will be well worth the attention of all.

Admission will be free. This is not advanced as an argument in favor of a large attendance, but is merely stated as a fact. Truth is often stranger than fiction.

The programme, which will be announced fully later in the week, has been carefully selected by Mons. Gagnier, and is designed to appeal to all the men, women and children who at present communicate additional lustre to the name and fame of Old McGill.

The aesthetic soul of the "highbrow" will revel in the aristocratic strains of Haydn and Tchaikowsky; the indefatigable devotee of "pop" and the languorous lover of the heart-stirring ballad will be excited to frenzy or melted to sob by items appropriate to each; while that section of the community whose idea of a concert is a succession of more or less agreeable sounds, during which one thinks of nothing in particular, may rest assured that nothing in the programme is calculated to shake that pleasant conviction.

Some of the best-known singers and instrumentalists in Montreal have been secured for the occasion, and the entertainment promises to be in every way well up to the standard of M. Gagnier's well-known productions.

shot. Langtry saved, and "Boo" missed the rebound. Varsity was checking so close that all the Red and White attempts at combination were broken up. Flanagan eluded the opposing defence, but Langtry saved sensationally. From a mix-up in the corner, Olson, who was uncovered in front of the McGill goal, received a pass, and beat out Clark. Towards the end of the period, the Blue and White went back on the defence, being contented to hold their two-goal lead. Score—Varsity, 2; McGill, 0.

Shortly after the beginning of the second period, Gouinlock eluded Clark, making it 3-0. "Boo" Anderson scored, but it was after the referee had blown his whistle. Heney rushed with Dincoen, and on a mix-up in front of the Varsity goal, counted McGill's first point of the game. At this point, play became fairly even. Varsity slipped a shot from outside the defence past Clark, making the score 4-1. Following this, the Red and White had the better of the play, and Langtry was called on to stop many shots. Finally Flanagan brought the puck behind the Varsity goal and passed to Behan, who notched the second counter for McGill. Shortly after, "Boo" Anderson scored on a pass from Earle Anderson. Score—Varsity, 4; McGill, 3.

The last period witnessed some of the most desperate playing of the game. Right after the start, Behan and Heney broke through, but the former's shot went wide. Flanagan, Heney and Behan took turns at some long shots, but their shooting was weak, and Langtry stopped them with ease. Both teams were showing the effects of the killing pace cut out at the start, but the Red and White were doing most of the attacking at this stage. Only the desperate defensive work of the whole Toronto team prevented a score.

Eleven minutes after the start, Varsity got away to a combination rush, and Gouinlock counted the fifth goal for his team. With a two-goal lead, the Blue and White went back on the defensive. In spite of this, however, the Red and White tried their hardest, and were finally successful, Flanagan

VARSITY ARE BASKETBALL CHAMPIONS

Intercollegiate Title Won On Saturday.

CLOSE GAME.

Score Of 30-23 Gives Victory To Toronto.

In one of the fastest and best basketball contests ever witnessed in the Capitol City, the University of Toronto senior team won the Intercollegiate title for 1919-20. Both teams have shown an excellent brand of basketball throughout the season, and each were defeated only once and by the other. Consequently, when the teams lined up Saturday at the Y.M.C.A. in Ottawa, a foreign floor, a keen and well-matched battle was anticipated, and the four hundred fans who witnessed it were not disappointed. Both teams showed perfect condition, so that the pace which they set at the beginning was maintained throughout the play to the very end. Countryman never replaced a man, while Walsh replaced Perrault and Montgomery.

What undoubtedly lost the play-off for McGill was their inability to take advantage of free baskets. Had Kern played his usual game, there would have been little doubt but that the title would have come to Montreal. This has been proven by a survey of statistics gathered at the game. McGill missed just twice as many free shots as her opponent, who rarely failed to take advantage of them. No doubt, what went a long way toward putting Kern off his usual game was the shouting and cheering. In vain did the referee endeavor to obtain absolute silence, and at one period he was forced to tell the supporters of both teams that unless silence was maintained whenever free baskets were attempted, the game would have to be called off.

ATHLETICS.

Dr. A. S. Lamb.

As soon as the whistle blew, Toronto took the offensive, and in a very short time had scored eight points, including three free baskets. In an attempt to even up the score, McGill seemed to carry her opponents off their feet for a time, and swift end to end passes with some good combination secured for them six points. The rest of the period was an even battle, the play now centering around the one basket, now called, the count stood 9-11 for the around the other. When half-time was U. of T., their early lead not having been overcome.

During the first part of the second and final period it could not be said that either had the advantage. McGill played brilliantly in an attempt to even up. At this stage, Bourke replaced Perrault, who was not up to his standard. A number of times he passed to a man in blue by mistake, and his long shots, which had on numerous occasions counted for the Red and White, were at no time effective. After missing four consecutive baskets, Kern was at this time moved into Bourke's position, while Pringle Soath replaced Montgomery. This rearrangement helped somewhat, and for a time it seemed certain that McGill would even up the score. The excitement was now at its climax. McGill fans yelled themselves hoarse, and Bourke added on another four in rapid succession. However, Toronto succeeded in rolling in another, and the game ended with the winners playing a careful defensive game. The final score was 30-23.

H. Maguire and R. Adams, of Ottawa, handled the game in such a manner that both teams were entirely satisfied. The line-ups were:
McGill—Forwards, Perrault and

Hats Off To You Toronto

A week-end which was rather disastrous for Old McGill has just come to a close and with it have gone three Intercollegiate titles. The University of Toronto, our hereditary rivals, proved too good for the Red and White, and while they had to fight and to fight hard for their victory, the consensus of opinion is that they gave a better exhibition than did the boys from Montreal.

Many supporters of both teams witnessed the games in Ottawa, and those who were cheering for the losers as well as those backing the victors, claimed that the games, and particularly the hockey, were more skillfully contested than any they had seen for many months past.

The encounter around which most interest centred was that in hockey. Rarely if ever have two teams more closely matched been entered in the Intercollegiate league. Supporters of the McGill sextette will remember the game with Varsity, which was played in Montreal. After an hour replete with thrills and with spectacular play the Red and White emerged the victors by the score of three to one. The second contest, that staged in the Queen city, will probably stand alone for years to come as the most gruelling and nerve-racking encounter between McGill and Toronto. After thirty minutes overtime and after each team had alternated as leader several times Varsity beat McGill by the long end of a seven to six score. Many claimed on this occasion that the Red and White had played the better game, and the fact that they three times during the game played four men against Toronto's six is proof that their exhibition was not inferior to that of the winners.

Saturday night's game, the playoff for the championship, opened with McGill the favorites. Both universities placed on the ice their strongest aggregations. Heney, the captain of the Montreal team, was again on the defense and was one of the outstanding stars of the game. Behan was in his usual position, notwithstanding the fact that he was recently ill and that much doubt had been expressed as to whether he would play or not. Carson, the star forward of the Blue and White crew, who had been out of the game for several weeks was again in uniform.

Varsity again assumed the lead and won the game by the score of five to four. The brand of hockey on this occasion was probably not of such a high standard as that shown in the game in Toronto, but nevertheless one fact remains undisputed by all impartial critics and we admit it as readily as others: the better team won.

Somewhat the same history is attached to the Basketball games. In the first encounter McGill won a closely contested game by an odd point. Two weeks later Varsity duplicated this feat. Both teams were very evenly matched and the outcome of the last game was awaited with interest. Toronto had little difficulty in winning by a margin of seven points, and with the victory carried off another title.

In the Assault-at-Arms McGill was unfortunate enough to take third place. The bouts were fast and close and it was often difficult to give a decision which met with the approval of all. The team representing the Red and White showed their skill at all three branches of sport which were featured at the Meet, but they were unable to beat their opponents from Toronto and Queens.

With these three contests intercollegiate sport for the season of 1919-1920 ceases. McGill has every reason to be proud of her showing and the championships which are hers have been well earned. Practically all of the encounters staged this year have been noteworthy for clean and fair sportsmanship and have been in keeping with the intercollegiate spirit. It is to be hoped that the feeling engendered this year will be fostered in the years to come and that the name intercollegiate will always stand for what is highest and most worthy in the world of sport.

APPOINTMENTS BUREAU.

The Graduates' Society of McGill University has opened an appointments bureau for McGill men with an office in the East Wing of the Arts Building.

The purpose of this appointments bureau is to help graduates to find suitable employment and to assist students in obtaining temporary employment during the summer months.

Students wishing to make use of this bureau should register at the same time as the nature of the Society.

employment they require, and whether permanent or temporary. To cover the cost of operating the bureau a registration fee of $1.00 will be charged. Address all communications to the Secretary, Graduates' Society, McGill University.

DENTAL DINNER.

The annual dinner of the Dental Society will be held in the Windsor Hotel, March 11th, at eight p.m. Tickets may be obtained from the Secretary, Graduates' Society, McGill University.

LAST MINUTE REPORTS FROM SEVERAL MCGILL GRADUATES

Death Of Dr. A. P. Reid, Med. '58, Is Reported—Dr. John L. Todd, Arts '98, Med. '00, in Geneva — Dr. R. J. B. Howard, Arts '79, Med. '82, Gazetted Officer Of the Order Of the British Empire — R. R. Laing, Sci. '19, Engaged.

Dr. Alexander Peter Reid, Med. '58, Provincial Health Officer of the Province of Nova Scotia for many years, died on February 27th, at his home in L'Ardeuse, C.B., to which place he moved from Halifax five years ago. Born at London, Ont., in 1836, the late Dr. Reid was educated there, at McGill, Edinburgh, the University of New York, and at the Halifax Medical College. After a short practice in Ontario, he went to the West in 1860 and crossed the plains to the Pacific Coast in 1861. Since 1864 he had lived in Nova Scotia, principally at Halifax, where he was instrumental in founding the Halifax Medical College and in perfecting legislation in regard to the study and practice of medicine. In addition to holding several chairs in the college, he was for a time its president. He was also an alderman of Halifax and served for 16 years as visiting physician to the City Hospital. For 15 years he was superintendent of the Nova Scotia Hospital for the Insane and afterwards superintendent of the Victoria General Hospital. From 1893 to 1904 he was secretary of the Provincial Board of Health and from 1904 to 1914, when he retired, Provincial Officer of Health. His widow and five children survive.

On February 25 a son was born in Montreal to W. T. May, Sci. '12, and Mrs. May, of 96 Westmount Boulevard.

Dr. George Hodge, Med. '15, has returned to this country after taking post-graduate courses at London and Edinburgh.

Dr. John L. Todd, Arts '98, Med. '00, has reached Geneva, Switzerland, to confer with the general medical director of the League of Red Cross Societies, concerning inquiries which the League will carry on in Poland in connection with typhus.

Dr. John R. Childer, Med. '19, medical officer on H.M.S. Walpara, a training ship for cadets of the mercantile marine, has arrived in England after a continuous voyage from Canada to the United States, Newfoundland, South America, New Zealand, Australia, South Africa.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur B. Ware, Montreal, announce the engagement of their daughter, Irene Marion, to Richard Ross Laing, Sci. '19, son of Robert Laing, Montreal. The marriage will take place the latter part of March. The trouble at the Boardway Methodist Tabernacle, Toronto, between the pastor, Rev. Salem Bland, D.D., Arts '77, and a certain section of the congregation, again showed activity at the recent meeting of the Quarterly Official Board, when a motion calling upon the Pulpit Supply Committee to invite a minister for the coming year was sought to be amended with the insertion of the word "new" before the minister. The attempt to terminate the pastorate of Dr. Bland at the end of the year, which will be in June, was defeated by a vote of nine to six. The question of retention of the pastor's services is thus left to the Pulpit Supply Committee, though their action must first be approved by the board.

The death took place at the Royal Victoria Hospital, Montreal, on February 29th, of Frances, daughter of the late Dr. R. A. H. MacKean, Glace Bay, C.B., and wife of Dr. Arthur T. Henderson, Med. '13.

Rev. Dr. E. E. Braithwaite, Arts '86, formerly president of Western University, London, Ont., and recently in charge of the Forward Movement campaign in Canada as national organizer, has been chosen to develop similar work in behalf of the Forward Movement in the United States and will be assigned to direct the campaign in either Illinois or New York states.

Rev. Dr. P. L. Richardson, Arts '90, died at his residence in Brockville, Ont., on Sunday, February 5, in his 55th year. In 1893 he received the degree of B.D. from the Wesleyan Theological College, which conferred the degree of D.D. upon him in 1915. Rev. Dr. Richardson labored throughout in the Montreal Conference of the Methodist church, being ordained in 1892. He was professor of classics and history and registrar of the Wesleyan Theological College from 1893 to 1896, then entered pastoral work, being stationed in Montreal, Sherbrooke and Ottawa, and then returned to the Wesleyan Theological College as Douglas professor of theology. Retiring in 1915, he was stationed at St. Lambert, going to Brockville in the following year. Rev. Dr. Richardson had served as president of the Montreal conference and as chairman of the Ottawa and Brockville districts.

Donald Alexander Smith Bell, Sci. '12, passed away of pneumonia in New York city on February 13. A son of the late Dr. Robert Bell, F.R.S., director of the Geological Survey of Canada, he was educated at the Ottawa Collegiate Institute and at McGill, after graduation being engaged as a mining engineer in Arizona. In 1914 he returned to Canada and started farming on a large scale near Portage la Prairie, Man., where he did much for the improvement of seed grain and stock. He was chairman of the local school board, a prominent member of the Manitoba Motor League and interested in the good roads movement. He died on the eve of his marriage.

Major Donald R. MacLaren, D.S.O., M.C., D.F.C., Legion of Honor, Croix de Guerre, Arts '17 and Sci. '17, to Miss Verna Harrison took place in the First Baptist Church, Calgary, Alberta, on February 1. Major MacLaren is now Canadian attaché to the Air Ministry in London.

Anne de Bellevue military hospital, up to the time of his demobilization in September, 1919, has taken up residence in Baltimore, Md., where he will practice as a consultant in neurology. Dr. Mussen has also resumed his research work at the Phipps clinic, where he is associate in experimental neurology and has recently been appointed neuropathologist and assistant in clinical neurology at Johns Hopkins hospital.

THEATRE LOVERS SHOULD SEE PLAY

Production of Senior Classes To Be One of Big Events Of Session.

With the athletic activities at the University pretty well finished for the season, the attention of the students is being drawn to the performance of the Senior Play at the end of the present week. The tickets were placed on sale last Friday, and are being bought up rapidly. Some misunderstanding about the performance has arisen in the minds of the students as to their right to attend the play on Friday evening. Although the graduates and outsiders are allowed to attend the performance on that evening, it does not prevent any student who wishes to attend from doing so. The play cannot be presented on more than two nights under any condition.

The characters are all well versed in their parts and only need to attend the dress rehearsals before the opening night. Attention is being given at the present time to the stage settings and the costumes. A squad of men are working in the R.V.C. assembly hall this week getting the stage in proper shape, and they promise to have everything ready shortly. The play consists of three acts, but there are only two scenes, and there will not be long delays between the acts. Arrangements have been made with a well-known theatrical firm to handle the costumes and make-up for the evening, and the effects produced by them should be very pleasing. Their task is by no means light, however. Preparing a character to assume the appearance of a cupid was thought to be an impossible task at first sight, but some suggestions from the man himself and the professional eye of the make-up man have combined in the adoption of a simple but effective costume.

The female characters in the play have troubles of their own in preparing for the performances. Arrangements for their costumes are not made as easily as for the men, and the modistes have been overworked in an attempt to have everything ready in time. For the characters of both sexes there are numerous changes of costume throughout the play.

On the opening night of the play, nearly all of the prominent members of the various faculties will attend, as will also several well-known graduates. The price of the tickets for the first performance is the same as that for Saturday night, fifty cents, and may be obtained at the Union, R.V.C. or from the janitor of the Arts Building.

LAST INFORMAL SPLENDID SUCCESS

Friday Evening a Memorable One in the History Of McGill Dances.

What was probably the most successful informal dance of the season was held last Friday evening in the Union. Judging from the keen looks of pleasure on the countenances of those fortunate mortals who attended the affair, a most enjoyable evening was spent. In spite of all the hedonistic efforts of the familiar Juppiter Pluvius, who so often proves a very unwelcome visitor, the seekers after the delights afforded by "jazzy" one-steps, Oriental fox trots and moonlight waltzes, gathered from near and far. We cannot say that everyone was there exactly on time—that is, 8.15—but although the dancing was a little late in starting, nobody minded in the least, all such minor worries being thrown to the winds in the pleasures of the whirl. To say that everyone was in a happy frame of mind is but to put it very mildly. Everyone was in a state of delectation, as they danced around to the merry strains played charmingly by the Harmony Dance Orchestra. This orchestra proved to be a very excellent "jazz band," whose music simply gave wings to the feet of all the participants in this joyous occasion. We must say also that the music, very good before supper, seemed even improved afterwards. We cannot tell whether this was due to a rise in spirits of the members of the orchestra or of the dancers. The refreshments provided by Mr. Price were up to his usual standard of catering, that is to say, excellent. They were served quickly and well, to the satisfaction of all.

Of course there is no need to mention that the ladies were as charming as usual, if not more so, if this should seem possible. Their gowns displayed were taking a chance on these terms, not a taste at once artistic and stylish (we are taking a chance on these terms not being one and the same thing. As mere men, we are naturally ignorant of this sort of thing).

The patronesses of the evening were Miss Hurlbut, Mrs. Forbes and Mrs. Brown.

scoring on a rebound of "Boo" Anderson. With one goal needed to tie the score, the Red and White redoubled their efforts, but with the whole Varsity team playing a purely defensive game, they could make no headway, and the final gong rang with the score, Varsity, 4, McGill, 1.

FRESHMEN WIN
BASKETBALL
FAST GAME

Juniors Outclassed In Speed and Shooting Ability.

AMARON STARRED.

Freshmen Scored Twenty-Four Points in Last Half Of Game.

The Freshmen again showed their ability to surprise people by winning a very exciting game of basketball by the score of 36-9. This score just about shows the difference in the condition of the two teams.

The fair sex were present from across the campus and this added to the interest in the game.

The game started off with lots of speed being shown by both teams. For a short time the play was even, then the Freshmen broke away and by a clever shot won a basket. A short while after the Freshmen got another basket on a free throw. Then the Juniors by some good combination closed the gap by scoring their first basket. From then on the speed and good shooting ability of the Freshmen began to tell and they increased their score. At this point the game began to get rougher and a number of fouls were made on both sides, the Juniors excelling in this respect. At half time the score stood 12-7 for the Freshmen, and they were still going strong.

The second half commenced with a few changes on the Juniors line-up.
However, this did not change affairs much as the Freshmen kept on scoring baskets. At this point the playing got pretty rough, a great number of fouls being made on both sides, however, the Juniors were not able to hold the Freshmen down and the final score ended 36-9. For the winners Amaron starred, but the whole team played a fast game, showing good combination in places, the tendency being to lous shots rather frequently. For the losers Bradford played a hard, consistent game but he was unable to get uncovered to shoot.

The game was ably handled by "Uncle" Sutherland and Bob Reid.

The line-up was as follows:
Juniors: Buchanan, Centre; Cooper Parker, Forward; Amaron, Forward; Bradford, Forward; Hyslop, Forward; Major, Defence; Bowen, Defence; Peterson, Defence; MacLennan, Sub.
Subs: Juniors: Dennison and Richardson. Freshmen: Ness and Emkerley.

LEAP YEAR SKATE.

Do not forget the Leap Year Skate to-night. As the weather is liable to get soft any time, this might be the last Leap Year Skate of the season.
So everybody come out and enjoy the fun. The girls are getting the habit so that no one may fear that he will have to sit out any skates.

There will be a college baseball practice in the Men's Gym, this afternoon at 1.30. Everybody out.

STAFF DEFEATED
IN HOCKEY MATCH

Game Furnished a Good Practice For the College Team.

On Wednesday afternoon a hockey match was played on the College rink between the College team and a team composed of students and members of the Staff. It had originally been planned to play the team representing the Department of Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment, but as they were unable to get up a team, several members of the staff, aided by a few students, consented to put up a game.

The game started with the college on the offensive and it was not long before Cooper netted a good shot. From then on the college showed superior speed and combination, and easily played around their opponents. At half time the score stood, College, 4; Students and Staff, 0.

The second period was a repetition of the first with the College scoring five more and the Students and Staff netting only one.

Buchanan, Cooper and Winter starred for the College, while Starak, Barton and Walker played a good game for the other team.

MAC. NOTES

SCIENCE LIT.

Room 207 resounded with the singing of the girls as they joined in the choruses of the popular songs at the Home-makers' Lit. meeting yesterday afternoon. The large attendance was appreciated by Miss Yonne Williams, the president, who presided. The musical trio (?) was received with much enthusiasm by the company; never has its equal for originality and nerve been heard in all the history of Lit. meetings.

Miss Enid Macfarlane was in charge of the refreshments which were dispensed during the interval.

The meeting adjourned at 6 p.m.

The regular meeting of Mac's Circle Francis was postponed last evening on account of the Junior-Freshmen Basketball game. It is intended to hold this meeting next week. Further notice will be posted of the exact date.

LOST, MISPLACED OR STOLEN.

Will anyone who knows the whereabouts of two silver candle-shades, lost at the Medical Dance, kindly give the information to Crawford, New Medical Building. These silver shades are of great value to the owner, being cherished gifts, and their return would be greatly appreciated by the persons responsible for their safe return.

THE SONS OF
JAMES STAYED
WITH THE SHIP

The Old Spirit Was To the Fore On Saturday.

ONE THOUSAND OUT.

Great Support Accorded the Teams At the Capital City.

Those who prate of the decline of college spirit at McGill would have been confounded could they have seen our representation at Ottawa on Saturday.
About five hundred men went up on the C.P.R. special, and these were reinforced by many more who travelled on later trains and by other lines. Altogether it is estimated that nearly a thousand McGill supporters were present when Harvey Pulford sent them off at Dey's Arena at 8.15.

Long before night, every yard of red ribbon in the city was sold, and every ribbon clerk, adorned with a souvenir from her customers, was a staunch adherent of the sons of James. In the afternoon a Hudson crowded with Mc-Gill men made the rounds of the city, and wherever blue and white was seen the eyes were stopped and the yell given.
No confirmation can be obtained of the rumor that a senior in Arts, noted for his ability in Finance, rented the rotunda of the Chateau Laurier to a U. of T. freshman for the day for ten dollars.

On the trip down, a crown and anchor game was run for the benefit of the crowd, the moving picture men (and incidentally of the bankers) many of our finest faces being preserved for posterity, and for the devotees of the silent art. The old sergeant-major, as usual, made the greatest profit.

Some touching signs were seen after the game. One senior was so reduced by the double defeat that his vocabulary consisted of one word only, and that oft-repeated, "Absolutely, absolutely, absolutely." On the return trip, a Montrealese who had evidently been and imbibed not wisely but too well, sat in the corner staring off into space, and repeating to himself, "Disastrous, disastrous, disastrous. There'll be a lot of boys broke at Old McGill next week." Another senior was observed making a pathetically ineffectual attempt to read a magazine, turning as many as three pages at once and sleeping between glances at the print.
It reminded one painfully of April ttempts at assimilation, of necessary knowledge. Two ack-umma is no time for Snappy Stories. Scores of all kinds there were, the fitful treble of the down-faced freshman blending with the long-drawn sonorous bass of the senior and the nasal euphony of the jovial junior. These senior bald spots, too: how unkind the night light is to them. A man's whole story is graven on his face as he lies asleep on a train-seat.

As an exemplar of real McGill spirit, Saturday's showing would be hard to surpass, and though we went down to defeat, we did it with all corors flying and with the whole crew staying with the craft. No team could have asked for better support, and defeated or not, no team could have deserved it more than those who represented us on Saturday.

VARSITY SECURES LAURELS IN THE ASSAULT-AT-ARMS

Queens Wins Second Place — Many Closely Contested Bouts — Score, Varsity 7, Queens 5, McGill 3 — An Enthusiastic Crowd Was Present To See the Revival Of the Intercollegiate Meet, Which Has Not Been Held For Six Years.

Grant Hall of Queen's University was crowded to capacity on both nights of the Intercollegiate Assault-at-Arms. The preliminaries, which took place on Friday night, lasted from eight o'clock until after midnight, and were witnessed from start to finish with the greatest enthusiasm by the large audience. Supporters of the three competing teams kept the hall ringing with yells of Varsity, Queen's and Mc-Gill. The finals on Saturday night produced some very fine exhibitions of scientific boxing and wrestling, which were pronounced by veterans in intercollegiate sport as the most creditable they had witnessed in college tournaments.

The best of sportsmanship prevailed throughout, the entire staging of the bouts. All the events were keenly contested, and in several, particularly in the preliminaries, an additional round had to be called before a decision could be given.

On the whole, the Queen's men appeared to be in the best condition.
Varsity had the advantage of having nearly all experienced men and men who were accustomed to working in public. McGill's chief weakness lay in insufficient training, and the nervousness which is the inevitable result of appearing for the first time before a large audience, and which is detrimental to the most efficient work.

On the first night, there was some misunderstanding as to the official boxing rules, and some of the referee's decisions were called into question. On the second night the rules were read aloud before commencing, and were rigidly adhered to.

In the preliminaries McGill drew three byes in boxing and two in wrestling. Queen's and Varsity drew two each in boxing and wrestling. Fencing was made a final on the first night, two men competing for each team, and the whole to count one point to the winner.

The officials were: Boxing—judges, H. E. Bradley, McGill; Prof. J. F. Mc-Donald, Queen's; and Major Loudon, Varsity. Referee, R. Clarke. Wrestling referee and judge, Joseph Hawkey, of Kingston. Fencing—Judges, James Bewes, Queen's; and Mr. Walters, Toronto. Referee, Prof. Hicks. Timekeeper, E. O. Sliter.

There were nineteen bouts in the preliminaries, the honors being carried off as follows:

Boxing—Queen's, two; McGill, one;
Varsity, four.

Wrestling—Queen's, two; McGill, one; Varsity, two.

Fencing—Queen's, one; McGill, two;
Varsity, four.

The points of the finals alone counted in deciding the championships, and were as follows:

Boxing—Queen's, three; McGill, one; Varsity, three.

Wrestling—Queen's, two; McGill,
two; Varsity, three.

Fencing—Varsity, one.
Of the fifteen possible points, Varsity won seven; Queen's, five; McGill, three.

THE PRELIMINARIES.

Boxing.

105 lbs.—Mirsky (McGill) vs. Robinson (Varsity). A nice exhibition of footwork. The men were evenly matched. Mirsky won on gameness and aggressiveness.

115 lbs.—McDonough (Queen's) vs.
Goodman (Varsity). McDonough was on the aggressive all through, but took a good deal of punishment. Goodman was awarded the decision on points.

125 lbs.—McCracken (Queen's) vs.
Seaborn (Varsity). Not much in-fighting, but fast and scientific. An extra round was called for in which Seaborn won on points.

145 lbs.—Ward (McGill) vs. Canning (Queen's). The first round was clearly Ward's, as he had his opponent groggy.
In the second round Canning came back strong, and in the third Ward received a lot of punishment. Canning got the decision on points.

155 lbs.—Echlin (McGill) vs. Day (Queen's). In the first round the men appeared evenly matched. Day, however, got in some telling blows in the second round, and in the third won on a technical knockout.

Heavy—Guthrie (Varsity) vs. Badger (McGill). Guthrie had the advantage of weight and reach, but Badger was the cleverer boxer. A heavy swing to the jaw by Guthrie in the second round proved a knockout.

Wrestling.

115 lbs.—Reid (McGill) vs. James (Queen's). James secured a fall in the first round. Reid kept the aggressive for the remainder of the bout, which was close and hard fought. James won on points.

125 lbs.—Eisen (Varsity) vs. Mc-Cracken (Queen's). Eisen won by default.

135 lbs.—Montgomery (McGill) vs.
Perry (Varsity). The men were very evenly matched. Although neither succeeded in getting a fall, Perry was given the decision on points.

Fencing.

Last Round—England (Queen's) defeated Vaughan (Varsity) by 5-4, and Hewitt (Varsity) defeated Fielding (McGill) by 5-1.

THE FINALS.

Boxing.

105 lbs.—Mirsky (McGill) vs. Dettlor (Queen's). Dettlor had the advantage of reach. The first round appeared fairly even. Mirsky boxing cleverly and getting in some good blows. In the second, however, Dettlor's reach began to tell, and he landed a good many straight punches to the face. In the third, after a hard-fought round, the decision was given to Dettlor.

115 lbs.—Johnson (McGill) vs. Goodman (Varsity). Johnson, although ne-put up a good fight, was outclassed from the start. After taking a good deal of punishment during the first round, he wanted to continue but the seconds advised against it, and the decision was given Goodman.

125 lbs.—McTaggart (McGill) vs. Gray (Varsity). A scientific exhibition.
One good blow was landed during the first round on both sides. Just as the gong went, Gray landed a hard blow to the jaw and McTaggart had to be carried to his corner. The decision went to Gray on a technical knock-out.

135 lbs.—McCuiloch (McGill) vs. Sea-born (Varsity). Both men opened fast with a good deal of hard hitting on both sides. McCuilooh appeared to have the advantage until Seaborn in a rush forced him against the ropes, and he fell, striking his head. The referee called for one minute rest, after which the round was completed. In the second, McCuilooh was given the decision on a foul of hitting in clinches.

145 lbs.—Canning (Queen's) vs. Black (Varsity). These men were very evenly matched, Black being slightly faster.
For the first two rounds Black kept on the aggressive and got in some good blows. In the third, there was a good deal of hard hitting on both sides.
Canning won on points.

155 lbs.—Day (Queen's) vs. Palmer (Varsity). Day opened strong and knocked Palmer down in the first minute, forcing a rest to be called. It was found that Palmer's eye was badly cut, and the doctors thought it better not to continue. Day was given the decision.

Heavy—Guthrie (arsity) vs. Marshall (Queen's). Guthrie had the advantage of weight and reach. It soon became apparent that Marshall could not stand up against his hard blows. The referee called a rest near the end of the first round. In the second, Guthrie won on a technical knock-out.

strong for him, and secured another fall.

(Varsity). The men were very evenly matched. James did most of the work during the first two rounds. In the without coming to the mat. Shirk won on points.

thews (McGill). Both started very (Varsity). Eschoo was slightly heavier stayed on top through practically the whole of the first two rounds. In the third, although Eschoo nearly secured a fall, Perry won the decision.

145 lbs.—Stewart (Queen's) vs. Mc-Caw (McGill). Stewart had the advantage of weight, and, although Mc-Caw fought hard, a fall was scored against him in the first round. In the second, McCaw opened fast and nearly got a fall, but Stewart soon rallied and forced him down by a neck-hold, winning the decision.

165 lbs.—Adams (McGill) vs. Griffin (Varsity). Both men opened fast, and though Griffin was on top for a short time, Adams soon secured the advantage and got a fall. In the second round, Adams worked fast, and in a couple of minutes got another fall by a scissors on the head and an arm hold.
Griffin was unable to continue, and Adams won the decision.

(McGill). McKee kept the aggressive during the first round, and after some
